PRESENT

THE

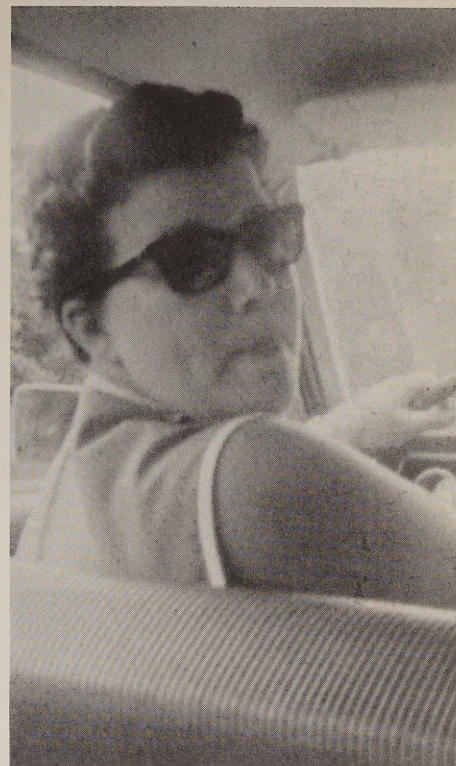

1970

PLEDGE

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of Shadyside Hospital School of Nursing, proudly dedicate our 1970 Pledge to you, Mrs. Sara Jane Robinson. Guiding our class through the last several months . . . an understanding, sympathetic advisor during our psychiatric experience . . . always an example of what a nurse should strive to be. Each of us in the class of 1970 will remember these qualities that you possess, and the many other reasons why we have chosen to say, "And here's to you, Mrs. Robinson . . ."

THE NURSE'S PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly, to faithfully practice my profession of nursing. ☞ I will do all in my power to make and maintain the highest standards and practices of my profession. ☞ I will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping in the practice of my calling. ☞ I will loyally assist the physician in his work and will devote myself to the welfare of my patients, my families and my community. ☞ I will endeavor to fulfill my rights and privileges as a good citizen and to take my share of responsibility in promoting the health and welfare of my community. ☞ I will constantly endeavor to increase my knowledge and skills in nursing and to use them wisely. ☞ I will zealously seek to nurse those who are ill wherever they may be and whenever they are in need. ☞ I will be active in assisting others in safeguarding and promoting the health and happiness of mankind.

Squibb Nurses Notes, 1964

*Marion G. Howell, R.N., Dean Emeritus
Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing
Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio*

We wait constantly in lines now—
For mail, for books, for meals,
For a weekend off . . .
Lines are everywhere, but next year
Where will they lead?
Some of us will leave and never return,
Except in our thoughts . . .
But each of us will take Shadyside wherever we go.

KAREN ANN BAZZOLI

"I'll meet you in the cafeteria . . . in 20 minutes."

"What health teaching can be started on this patient?"

"It's in here someplace."

"This is called prompt medical attention."

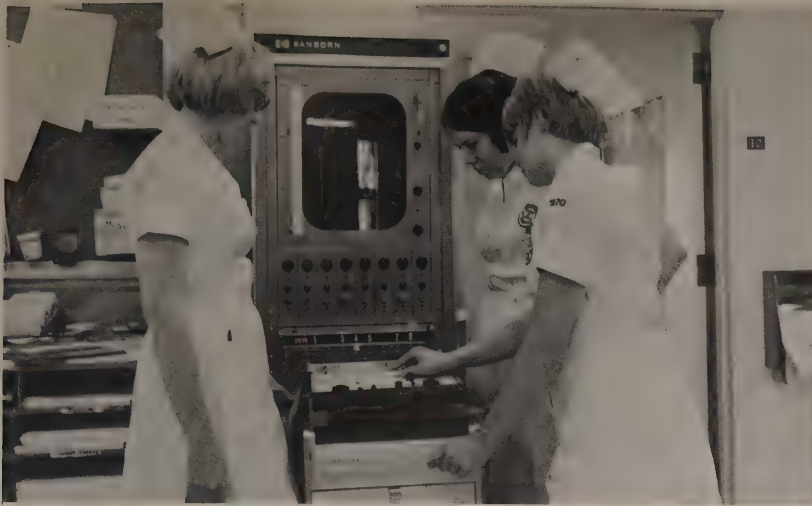

"It's been one of those days ..."

"Get your hands off me!"

"You've got to work for ice cream around this place."

"Watching this thing gives me a headache."

"The only reason I'm doing this is because I'm forced into it."

"The pride and joy of 2 South."

"You've got to be kidding us!"

"Are you sure it doesn't matter if my arm's numb?"

"2 Main's official barbers."

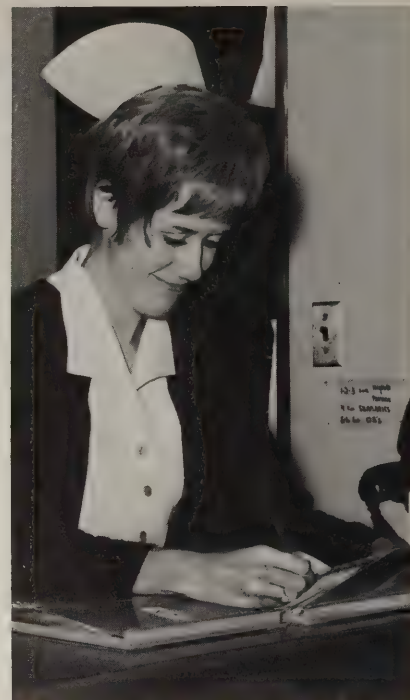

"I hope I can finish this in 3 hours."

"Bedpan Brigade."

"... and furthermore it says ..."

"One more day in charge of this place, and I've had it!"

"Only twenty more minutes and I'm hitting the sack."

To be a junior is . . .
Leaving familiar surroundings,
Only to return again,
Seeing a baby born, watching a child die,
Facing the sorrows of life,
Benefiting from its many joys,
It's a feeling of being stuck in the middle,
It's looking forward to next year,
A pin . . . being a senior . . .
You've finally reached the top.

"Let's see . . . the hand bone's connected to the wrist bone, the wrist bone's connected to the . . ."

"Now which would be the easiest way to go . . . around or through the park?"

"Are you ready? Catch!"

"Technique to the 'T'."

"Going up?"

"Hmm, how did she say to square the corner?"

"What do you think about it all, Sally?"

"Here's your 'Mother's Discharge Pack', Mrs. Jones, compliments of Shadyside Hospital."

"Of course Neil and I are going to study tonight!"

"Do you mean I have to give the plate back?"

"Now if you'll sign on the dotted line, this 1970 Jaguar XKE will be all yours!"

"Is it time to eat yet?"

"He finally called!"

"Overwhelming, isn't it Carol? Carol! Wake up Carol!"

"Hmm, what did they do to the milk this time?"

"Hurry, Connie. You might miss lunch!"

"What are you looking at, Dr. Grego?"

"Don't just stand there . . . snap to it, girls!"

"Ready for discharge, with a smile."

"Would you believe . . . Horne's Fifth Floor?"

Nursing is the opening up of an entirely different world,
It is learning about others,
It is periods of depression
when you want to pack up and leave,
It is periods of happiness
when you wouldn't change your position for anything,
It is being a freshman,
When all you can do is look ahead . . .

"Home, sweet home?"

"Well, here we are! The Little White 'Angels'!?"

"The Three Muskateers?"

"It's kind of snug in the waist, but it will do, I guess."

"Would you care to meet the warden now?"

"If only the guys at the house could see me now!"

"Are there really bars on the windows?"

"Won't Ed be proud of me?"

"What do you mean we have to be in at 10:30 P.M.?"

"I'm a little short on tuition, but if you'll give me a couple of weeks—"

"We nurses are very scientific. This is to keep away the evil spirits."

"I was expecting a single, but got a ward!"

"I'm glad you think this is so funny!"

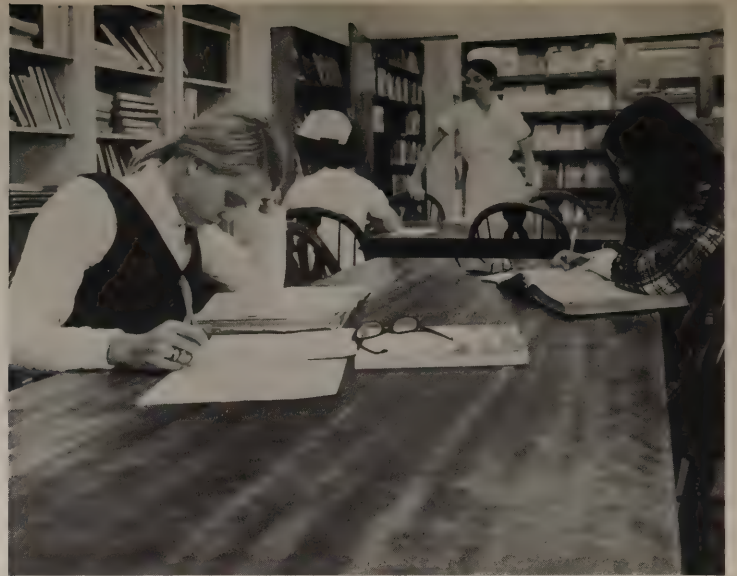

"Now, no wild parties and make sure she's in bed by 8:00."

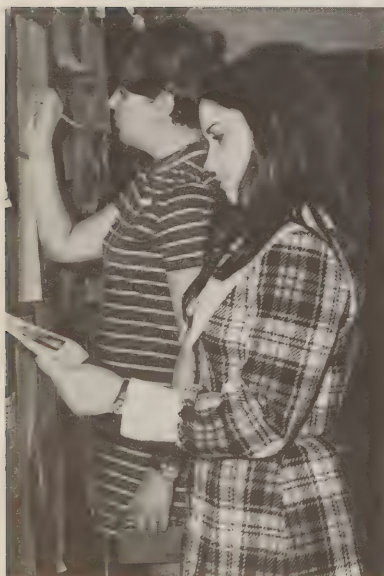

"Smile girls, here comes a senior!"

"This results in exceedrin headache no. 72!"

"It's a nice place to visit, but we wouldn't want to live here."

"I'll sign up, but what do they do to freshmen?"

"Our first cardiac arrest!"

"She can laugh, but she's not being 'Properly Positioned!'"

"How do I know, Jackie? Ask Mr. Watt!"

"Only two minutes 'til breaktime!"

"That's the last time I get embalmed at a mortuary party!"

"So that's what we're going to learn in Anatomy!"

"Well, there's another day's work done."

"I may not be pretty, but I've got a wonderful personality."

"Come on, Miss Thompson, it's only one phone call."

"Oh, I should be done in three or four days!"

"Who started the rumor that we had maids?"

"Well, the social life's nothing to brag about, but the food isn't bad, especially the chicken!"

A long Monday night practice,
The joys of winning . . .
A blue and gold uniform.
The 2nd Tuesday night of the month in Hammond,
Collecting for UNICEF.
The many activities of Shadyside . . .
A feeling of belonging,
A break from nursing,
And just a chance to know each other.
It's provided here.

To the Class of 1970:

Shadyside could not have begun the decade of the '70's more auspiciously than by having you, the Class of '70, as the 83rd class to graduate from the School of Nursing.

You have made searching inquiries. You have demonstrated minds searching for truth in a time of extending medical technology. You have set a standard of excellence which will serve to challenge future students. Shadyside is a better place for having had you, each and everyone, as students.

Your graduation is, in the best sense of the word, a beginning for each of you as a professional person. Your opportunities will be limited only by your own goals and horizons. I know that each of you, as a Shadyside Nurse, will make a unique contribution in your chosen field of nursing practice.

For each of you, I wish:

- The ability to accept the challenge of a difficult, but most rewarding career;
- A sympathetic and understanding heart;
- A sense of humor which permits recognition of your own frailties;
- Friends who understand and support you;
- A mind unafraid to venture into new areas;
- Moments of leisure and contemplation;
- A deep and abiding faith in God, who has given you a great talent—The Art of Healing.

May your horizons be unlimited and may your reach exceed your grasp by such margins as to make you keep extending yourself.

Sincerely,

Senior Farewell

Shadyside thy memory lingers, all through the years . . . what years will the Seniors remember as these words are sung on the evening of April 8, 1970? Most of you will be reverting back to that memorable first day, October 9, 1967. Since then all of you have been fighting bravely . . . to pass tests, to strive for adequate floor performance, and to prepare for the day you will be a registered nurse. Now that time has arrived . . . many are bravely holding back tears, while others cling to the many friends they have made. Perhaps the remainder are still reliving and trying to retain the many memories of good and bad times spent here at Shadyside.

You wanted a future . . . you came here to prepare for it. You chose Shadyside, but more important, Shadyside chose you. As you leave it now, may you wear your cap with pride . . . and remember your days here with a smile.

You have been prepared, but you may be asking yourself, "Can I really make it?" Only time will tell. Lift your head high, smile, walk tall . . . and be proud you are a Shadyside nurse. And as you enter the professional world, look back on your days here fondly . . . because memories will still linger all through the years for each of you in the class of 1970.

Our world of sights and sounds
Does not end here;
Nor do our thoughts of the past.
They shine through time;
Through years and progress.
Some things never change.
